Five Golden Rules for Contractors to Meet New DoD Cyber Mandate
January 4, 2018 | Brad Gandee

With the holidays over and the New Year just beginning, there are a few important items security leaders must check off their to do lists. For example, complying with the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) Special Publication (SP) 800-171 regulations, which went into effect on Dec. 31.

Any organization or contractor that holds or processes controlled unclassified information (CUI) as part of their work with the Department of Defense (DoD) must ensure that they comply with this new regulation. As most know by now, meeting the NIST 800-171 requirements is vital to the security of our nation and provides enhanced security for organizations' valuable assets and data.

Here are the five golden rules to ensure you make the NIST 800-171 compliance grade in 2018.
